Da Nang: Nature's Playground

Da Nang, a picturesque coastal city, boasts breathtaking beaches, rolling mountains, and a rich tapestry of historical relics. Formerly overshadowed by its role as a transit point for travelers bound for Vietnam's smaller coastal cities, Da Nang has now carved its niche as a destination worth exploring in its own right. Visitors are drawn here to bask in its natural splendors and unravel the layers of its history.

The city, enveloped by lush mountains, is the gateway to renowned treasures like My Khe Beach, Lang Co Beach, Hoi An, and My Son. Lang Co Beach, adorned with swaying palm trees, features crystal-clear waters gently caressing its pristine shores.

Mornings greet you with the refreshing embrace of spring, while noontime ushers in the warmth of summer. As the afternoon unfolds, the air becomes damp and cool, reminiscent of the autumn breeze, and by evening, it turns as cold as winter.

A visit to Bana Hills also presents you with the remarkable Golden Bridge and an opportunity to savor a delightful lunch within this enchanting setting. Later, you'll descend via cable car, returning to your hotel or continuing your exploration to uncover more of Da Nang's treasures.

As an added delight, a visit to the Non Nuoc stone carving village, located near Marble Mountain, will reveal the artistry of sculptors crafting exquisite marble statues.

Following your visit to Marble Mountain, return to your hotel and indulge in an afternoon of leisure at the beach.

My Son Sanctuary & Hoi An: Echoes of Ancient Champa

One of the most mesmerizing sights in the Hoi An region is My Son, a place of paramount historical significance as the spiritual heart of the ancient Champa kingdom. Between the 4th and 13th centuries, a distinct culture, deeply rooted in Indian Hinduism, flourished along the coastal regions of present-day Vietnam.

This unique culture is vividly represented by a collection of awe-inspiring tower-temples nestled in a dramatic site that once served as the religious and political epicenter of the Champa Kingdom for most of its existence. Located within a breathtaking valley, surrounded by towering mountain ranges, My Son was designated as a UNESCO Cultural Heritage site in 1999.

Originally crafted from wood, these temples succumbed to fire in the 6th century, only to be painstakingly restored in the 7th century under the guidance of Sambhuvarman, who reconstructed them using locally crafted bricks. By the 13th century, over 70 similar temples had been constructed, solidifying My Son as a sacred sanctuary of Hinduism within the Champa Kingdom.

In the afternoon, take a leisurely stroll through Hoi An, a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Explore a rich tapestry of history woven from Chinese, Vietnamese, and Japanese influences. Your guide will lead you through the Old Town, revealing the captivating stories and influences that have shaped the city. Following this enriching day, return to your hotel and enjoy a tranquil evening.
