Detailed Itinerary

 Day 1: Southern Phu Quoc Explore - (Snorkeling & Fishing in The South)

The tour starts off at morning, 8:30AM, as you are pickup at the hotel (or at a convenient gather point), then we pay a visit to the Pearl Farm to learn about the cultured pearl industry. Pearl Farms were built up in quite a number of facilities, which is out of surprise since Phu Quoc has been being labelled “The Pearl Island”. During the visit you’ll gain fascinating insight into the process of oyster cultivation which turns it from simple oyster to beautiful jewelry. Then we on to the harbor to board the boat. Once out on the water we anchor down for guests to fish. Afterwards we dock at a beautiful island for snorkeling and swimming. Enjoy lunch onboard, then visit a second island for more snorkeling. There are more than a dozen beaches to visit in Phu Quoc Island. All of them have almost transparent, turquoise seas. The waters are also blessed with coral reefs and tropical fish of various shapes and colors. This is why it is always a good idea to swim, snorkel and scuba-dive here, though relaxing and lounging by the beach are also great ways to spend time on the island. Our final stop on the return journey is Bai Sao, a beautiful beach with turquoise water and white sand. With its marvelous white sand, green-turquoise water, swaying palm trees and jungle backdrop, Sao Beach is the “perfect postcard” one that travelers searching for. Hanging offshore further, you will find schools of small fish, needle nose fish, and even squid under the water sometimes. This is a great rendezvous to relax attracting tourists to Phu Quoc travel, indeed, Sao Beach brings pristine and innocent beauty of a pubertal girl making up on the dressing table.
